Scouts Go Cabin Camping

By Gary Bauchan, Assistant Scoutmaster

At the end of each year the Scouts of Troop 1033 go cabin camping to celebrate the activities for the year. The first weekend of December, 14 scouts and 3 adult leaders went to Camp Harmison in West Virginia. The scouts enjoyed taking a walk down to the river, playing cards, Connect 4 and Jenga, watching movies and a Scouting Feast of meatloaf (recipe courtesy of Troop 230

Beltsville Author Praises God Through Poetry Collection

BELTSVILLE, Md. — This week marks the nationwide release of author J.L. Price's new poetry collection, "Poetry to Glorify the Father."

In his second book, "Poetry to Glorify the Father," Price brings readers closer to the Lord in a very simple yet powerful way. Written with the truth and honesty of God's word, this collection of poetry is wonderful for recitals at spiritual gatherings or simply just for pleasure.

Published by Tate Publishing and Enterprises, the book is available through bookstores nationwide, from the publisher at www. tatepublishing.com/bookstore, or by visiting barnesandnoble.com or amazon.com.

Elizabeth White Receives Distinguished Alumni Award from Professional Music Fraternity

By Mu Phi Epsilon

SILVER SPRING, MD—By the time she was six, Elizabeth White had heard her mother play classical music every night after putting the children to bed. This musical influence, plus the start of lessons with a fine teacher, was the beginning of a rewarding lifelong career of performing and teaching.

Mrs. White joined the international professional music fraternity, Mu Phi Epsilon, while attending the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston.

The Beltsville Recreation Council Says "Thank You"

Thank you to the Beltsville Community for supporting the events sponsored by the Beltsville Recreation Council: Beltsville Day, Jazz under the Stars, the Community Health Fair, the Holiday Home Decorating Contest and the annual Holiday Concert. These events have been a mainstay in the Beltsville community for years and are enjoyed by many in the surrounding area.

As we begin 2014, we would like to look back and thank all of those who participated in our activities. The events provided by the Beltsville Recreation Council would not be possible without the support of the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commision (MNCPPC), the wonderfully supportive staff at the Beltsville Community Center and our community sponsors: Old Line Fine Wine, Spirits & Bistro, who sells our "I Heart Beltsville" t-shirts.

Beltsville Recreation Council congratulates the Winners of the 2013 Beltsville Holiday Decorating Contest, who were present and received a prize: "Best • Holiday Spirit" - 4218 Kenny • Street and "Best Use of Animation" - 4608 Brandon Lane.

Meetings of the Beltsville Recreation Council are held at the • Community Center on the 3rd • Monday of the month at 7pm. • Members of the Beltsville Community Center staff attend the meetings to help with successful • coordination of planning and set up for all of the events. A calendar of events and meetings can be found on our website www.beltsvillereccouncil.homestead.com or our Beltsville Recreation Council Facebook page.

Below is a list of those who supported at least one of the Beltsville Recreation Council programs in 2013. If we excluded anyone, it was inadvertent. We sincerely appreciate everyone's support and look forward to a great new year in Beltsville.

College Park Unit #217 Celebrates the Season

By Ivy Christoffers

On the day scheduled for Unit 217's Community Children's Christmas Party, Mother Nature decided to mix things up a little and we experienced rain and snow which caused us to hold our breath for a while, at least until the children started to arrive. Children & Youth Chairman, Angie Brinkley, and her committee organized a fun filled day for the 28 children whose parents braved the weather and brought their children out to visit with Mrs. Santa and the big man, Santa Claus. The children began with crafts, lunch and then each received a gift from Santa. Because of the inclement weather, the party was shorter than usual. Thanks go out to Miss College Park, Miss Greenbelt, Miss Montgomery County Teen, Jr. and all the little Princesses who were on hand to lend their assistance. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves. Thanks also to the kitchen crew, led by President Mary K., for the delicious lunch.

The next upcoming event is the New Year's Eve Party. $25 will prove to be the least expensive party admission in the area and will include a great band, snacks, food, and a Champagne toast at midnight, hats, noisemakers and door prizes. Plan to come and join Unit 217 in closing out 2013 and welcoming in 2014.

Some upcoming events to put on your new calendar are the return of "Patsy's Honkey Tonk Torch and Twang" on Jan. 18th. They will be sharing the bill with Karen Collins and her band. It is shaping up to be a great event with free dance lessons included and it is only $10 a person. On Feb. 15th Unit 217 is very excited to welcome back Ronnie Dove's amazing band, Doug Lester and his band will be appearing from 8:00 pm until 12:00 am. Dinner is included with the cost of admission, which is only $20. You really do not want to miss these artists, especially their sax player. There is a lot happening at the Post and the public is welcome to attend and enjoy all of these events. Where else in town can you find this quality of entertainment for such a pittance?

The College Park Unit is also looking for those qualified people in the community who would like to belong to this elite organization. God bless our troops and may God continue to bless America.

Yes to blessings, joy and wonderful opportunities.

New Year's Eve Celebration At The College Park Moose Lodge #453

Bring in 2014 with a big bang and party at the local Moose Lodge! The New Year's Eve Party begins with a steak dinner served from 6-8 pm. Dance to the music of the Dixie Wind Band from 9 to 1am. This popular band plays a variety of music for your listening and dancing pleasure. In addition, noisemakers will be provided and a Happy New Year toast will be held at midnight!

Tickets can be purchased at the Lodge at a cost of $45 per person. This event is open to the public. Bring your family, friends, and neighbors and celebrate close to home. The Lodge is located at 3700 Metzerott Road, College Park, Maryland. For further information, please call 301.935.5525.

We look forward to seeing you!

It's time to try health care website again

It's no secret that the national and Maryland health insurance websites have had all kinds of bugs, and too many people needing affordable insurance haven't been able to sign up.

But federal and state officials and their tech contractors have been working hard to fix the sites. Governor O'Malley announced last month that Maryland's is largely fixed. The website isn't perfect — which ones are? but most Marylanders who need health insurance should be able to sign up.

Visit www.marylandhealthconnection.gov to check it out. And please share this update with friends and family who need health insurance. If you still have problems with the site, you can call the Health Exchange at 1-855-642-8572, and they can help you over the phone. And if you still have problems, please contact us at 301-858-3141 and we'll do whatever we can to help. We all know that nothing important is easy. And getting affordable health insurance to all our neighbors is important.

Take MARC trains to Baltimore and DC on weekends!

Delegates Barbara Frush, Joseline Peña-Melnyk, Ben Barnes, and I are very happy to report that weekend MARC service on the Penn Line has begun. Take advantage of this new service by bringing your family on a fun day trip to Baltimore and enjoying the Inner Harbor, National Aquarium, and Fort McHenry. Or take the train down to D.C. to visit the museums and other sites in our nation's Capitol, such as the National Zoo, Smithsonian, White House, and Arlington Cemetery.

The weekend service is a direct result of the state transportation package the Maryland legislature passed earlier this year. We worked hard to make sure it brought important improvements to our community, including expanding MARC service to the weekends on the Penn Line. Additional daily trips will be added soon to the Camden Line as well.

The weekend schedule includes 9 round trips on Saturdays and 6 on Sundays. The fares will be the same as weekday service ($7 Baltimore-Washington, $6 BWI-Washington, $5, Odenton-Washington), and weekly and monthly passes will be honored.

ington Alumni Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, she received the fraternity's highest honor, the 2013-2014 Orah Ashley Lamke Distinguished Alumni Award.

Its emphasis on music-supportive activities recognizes her "loyal service throughout many years of membership... (She) has exemplified, to a high degree, a dedication to fraternity ideals and has inspired others in a manner akin to that of the sister in whose honor the award is named."

For the resident of Riderwood, the Erickson Living retirement community, the award is recognition of her career, but not an end to her musical journey. "To combine performing and teaching is a dream come true. I really enjoy interacting with people," related Mrs. White.

Her active role with Mu Phi Epsilon has included participating in national conventions, chairing a performance scholarship competition, serving as chapter president during the 1990s and district director of the combined Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia chapters between 2000 and 2010, and aiding in the installation of new fraternity chapters.

Locally, she co-founded the Music Teachers Association of Bowie in 1968 and performed twice for the Prince George's County Philharmonic.

At Riderwood, Mrs. White formed the Piano Club in 2013.

The resident group meets monthly to enhance their love of the ivories through playing and sharing stories of concerts and experiences. Mrs. White also accompanies musicians on campus and plays for fellow residents at the extended care neighborhood of Riderwood.

Mrs. White counts meeting Chilean pianist Claudio Arrau, considered one of the greatest performers of the twentieth century, as a career highlight. But opening doors for others will always be her main priority.

"Developing talent in others is a rewarding experience," said Mrs. White. "Often times, it's just a matter of overcoming shyness. I always encourage people to try music or return to the piano because music brings the world so much joy."

for you, visit www.Toro.com.

■ Make it Painless: Don't fight the wind. Whenever possible, point a snow blower's chute downwind so that the wind helps you blow the snow. It's usually easier to move up and down the length of a driveway, not perpendicular. In strong crosswinds, start on the upwind side and then work

- Think ahead: Throw snow as far into your yard as possible. Throwing snow only to the edge of a driveway or walkway will lead to high snow banks and make it more difficult to remove snow during the next snowstorm.
- Be safe: Read and understand your operator's manual before getting started. As you would with a lawn mower, inspect the area first and remove objects which might be picked up and thrown by the snowblower. Keep children and pets far away.

■ Be Body Smart: Toiling away outdoors can be hard on your body, especially for older people. So give your heart and back regular breaks so you don't overdo it. Stay hydrated and don't overdress or you'll quickly be soaked from sweat.

This winter, be ready to keep your home maintained, no matter what the weather blows your way.

Anyone Can Make a Difference: Ways You Can Give Back

(StatePoint) In today's connected world, we are flooded with global news 24/7. As a result, many suffer from what experts refer to as "compassion fatigue." But simple acts of kindness can make your community and world a better place to live. And research says it could even be beneficial to your health.

In fact, in a recent study conducted by Claremont Graduate University, people who felt empathy for a stranger experienced a release of the hormone oxytocin, which is associated with lower blood pressure, lower cortisol (stress hormone) levels, reduced pain and improved psychological well-being.

"Reaching out to a stranger benefits both people. It's a winwin," says Erin Healy, author of the new novel "Stranger Things," which she was inspired to write in order to raise awareness of sex trafficking and human slavery.

Many people are loathe to forge connections with strangers and help others, due to introversion, fear, or concerns that what they have to offer might not be enough. However, Healy points out that a small change in attitude can help spur you to take meaningful action. She offers some quick tips for surmounting your hurdles and giving back:

■ Be you. Harness your talents, abilities and the resources already at your disposal to give back or raise awareness. When it comes to helping others, there's no cookiecutter way to do it.

"Teach a class, buy supplies, be an advocate — it's all about pinpointing what you can do to shine a light on an issue and help improve it, rather than getting mired in what you can't accomplish," says Healy. "At present, I can't travel to India to infiltrate a brothel and pull girls out. I can't be a live-in 'mom' at an aftercare home. But I can write a book. I can help to raise awareness."

- Shop Smart. With a little research you can better ensure your consumer dollars are not supporting companies that don't share your values. Consider shopping from companies that donate a portion of their proceeds to non-profit organizations and foundations that support causes about which you are passionate.
- Think local. "When I started researching 'Stranger Things' I was surprised to learn how many small organizations in my own city are already making efforts to aid victims of human trafficking," Healy says. "Let your heart lead you to a local cause. You can empower yourself by helping those already doing the work."
- Think random. You may not have the time to make a longterm volunteering commitment, but every day presents opportunities, big and small, to show kindness to strangers when you take the time to notice them.
- Connect with a stranger. By looking outward you gain perspective on your own troubles and realize that you have more to offer than you may have thought. Be intentional, and take time to notice those around you. As you get to know them, you'll find yourself moved to help.

More information about Healy and her new novel, "Stranger Things," can be found at www. ErinHealy.com.

Don't let compassion fatigue or a busy schedule keep you from giving back. There are great ways for everyone to make a difference.

Safe and Easy Snow Removal Tips

(StatePoint) Keeping your property maintained during and after a snowfall is crucial. But handle snow and ice safely, as some of the risk involved comes from the removal process itself manually shoveling after a heavy snowfall can be dangerously strenuous.

Opting for a snowblower can help you avoid risk, as well as get the job done faster. If you have a larger area to clear, you'll especially want to consider motorizing your snow removal efforts.

To help ensure a safe winter for you, your family and your guests, here are some considerations to make when dealing with snow:

■ Prevent: An ounce of prevention goes a long way. So if you're expecting a major snowfall, consider salting before the first flake falls.

■ Don't wait: Keep up with the snowfall. Most of the time, it's easier and faster to clear six inches of snow twice than 12 inches of snow once.

■ Use the Right Gear: Not all snowblowers are the same, so purchase a machine that's ideal for your property. Factors such as the type of surface and size of the space you're clearing, as well as how much and what type of snow you're expecting all should be considered. For a free online tool that can help you identify the right snowblower

Is Your Home Ready for a Power Outage?

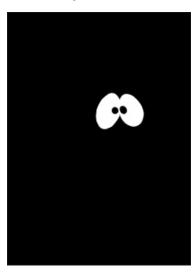

(StatePoint) Being prepared for winter means more than just stocking up on Vitamin C. It also means making sure your home is ready for the onslaught of cooler weather and potential power out-

Whether it's just windy and blustery, or there's an ice storm or blizzard, wicked weather can cause all sorts of damage or power

One of the most important things you can do to ensure a safe, happy and healthy winter is equip your home with a portable generator, which can serve as a useful back up during an emergency or when a power source isn't avail-

Don't forget, with great power comes great responsibility. When using a generator, keep these tips in mind:

■ Always read and follow the manufacturer's operating manual and instructions before running a generator.

■ Engines emit carbon monoxide (CO), a colorless and odorless poisonous gas. Don't run a generator inside homes, garages, crawlspaces, basements, sheds, or similar areas, even when using fans or opening doors and windows for ventilation.

Locate the unit outside and direct its exhaust away from doors, windows, vents and other openings to reduce the risk of CO from accumulating and potentially being drawn towards occupied spaces. Install a CO detector in your home.

■ Connect electrically powered items to the generator using heavy-duty extension cords specifically designed for outdoor use. Ensure the wattage rating for each cord exceeds the total wattage of all appliances connected to it. Check that the entire length of each cord is free of cuts or tears and that the plug has all three prongs. Coiled cords can get hot, so always uncoil cords and lay them in flat open locations.

from Limerick, PA), mashed potatoes, green beans, lemonade, and 'smores' that the Scouts did a fine job of preparing. The trip to camp was only 2 hours long; however, the return trip to Beltsville was a long 4 and a half hours through heavy snow Sunday morning.

Reflecting back on 2013, Boy Scout Troop 1033 had a tremendous year of growth. The troop grew to 25 boys with the addition of 4 new scouts who crossed over from Cub Scout Pack 1031 in Beltsville or who joined later in the year. Again this year, our Troop earned the Boy Scouts of America Quality Unit Award in their Journey to Excellence. The troop has 11 active parents who serve and guide the troop beginning with the leadership of Troop Committee Chair, Vicki Wauschek; Scoutmaster, Rick Deery; 4 assistant scoutmasters (Gary Bauchan, William Wauschek, Eric Saathoff, and Budhan Pukazhenthi), Charter Organization Representative, Julie Pavelka; Activities Chair, Paula Crowley; Advancements Chair, Laurie Deery; Communications Chair, Jennifer Klemens; Committee Member at Large, Bob Thomas; and the support of all the parents. The troop continues to be sponsored by the Emmanuel United Methodist Church on Cedar Lane which graciously provides meeting space for our 7:00 p.m. Thur. weekly meetings. They have been the troops' sponsor for over 50 years. Thank you to the members of the Emmanuel United Methodist Church!

This past year, the troop went on 6 trips one of which included walking in the footsteps of our founding father, George Washington, as they visited Valley Forge. Camping trips included swimming/tubing in Antietam Creek; hiking along the C&O Canal near Harpers Ferry; climbing indoors at Earth Trek; orienteering at Broad Creek Boy Scout Reservation; and a week long summer camp at Camp Rodney. Twelve Scouts attended summer camp and obtained Archery, Basketry, Chess, Environmental Science, Geocaching, Golf, Kayaking, Lifesaving, Nature, Radio, Rifle Shooting, Robotics, Swimming, and Wilderness Survival merit badges.

The Troop also contributed over 500 hours of service to the local community. These service projects included gardening around the grounds at the Methodist Church; helping set up and take down the 4th of July Celebration for the Calverton Community Association; directing traffic at the Methodist Church Parking lot Trunk-or-Treat; Scouting for Food for the needy; judging Christmas decorations in the Calverton neighborhood for the Calverton Community Association, and collecting toys for Children's Hos-

The spring and fall fund raising involved the sale of Behnke Nurseries mulch, top soil, Leaf Grow, pansies and mums. This continues to be a huge success due to the kind support of the Beltsville community. The Boy Scouts and their leaders wish everyone a Happy Holiday Season and a Healthy New Year!

Something New

It's that time of year where resolutions abound and decrees are made. In keeping with tradition here are a few tips to help you get the New Year off to a great start.

- 1. Treat yourself to a new cooking utensil, pot, pan, and take note if your kitchen creations improve.
- 2. Expand your palette, try a new ethnic food style this year. It took me 32 years to try kimchee and I am sorry I waited so long.
- 3. Stop by Old Line wine shop (route 1, Beltsville, MD) and check out their French wine selection. You can thank me later.
- 4. Try making hot chocolate using a Theo's Dark Chocolate bar (sold online or at Mom's Organic Market, College Park). You will have a decadent chocolate experi-
- 5. Try a new type of seafood this year. Sea Urchin anyone!
- 6. Next time you BBQ, add additional flavor to your fare by using wood chips in the cooking process. Suggestions include: Apple, Cherry and Hickory wood
- 7. Make homemade ice-cream. You can start with a trusted recipe and eventually begin experimenting with different ingredients.
- 8. Keeping with the homemade theme, channel your inner fromager by making homemade mozzarella cheese. There are multiple recipes available even for the

- 9. Purchase a new cookbook and utilize the new cooking tool from tip #1!
- 10. Start an herb garden (Benhke's Garden can assist with this. Route 1, Beltsville, MD)
- 11. Create a family food legacy. Share a family recipe with someone younger. Better yet take time to make the dish together and create family memories.

12. EAT WELL in 2014!

The Beltsville Lions held their annual Christmas party at the Comfort Inn in Calverton on the evening of 3 Dec. The staff at the Comfort Inn provided first class support, which they always do.

Beltsville Lions Annual Summary

The Beltsville Lions are deeply saddened by the recent death of Linda Kennedy, beloved wife of Lion Kevin Kennedy and mother of Kevin ("KJ"), Erin, Melissa and Katie. Linda was a wonderful person and will be sorely missed. Club members will keep Lion Kevin and his family in their thoughts and prayers.

The Beltsville Lions Club has met at the Comfort Inn in Calverton, and its predecessor the Fairfield Inn, on the first Tuesday of the month since Sept. 2002. The club has been pleased with the wonderful accommodations and outstanding support of the staff there. On Dec. 3, the club held the annual Christmas party at the Inn and everything was exemplary, as usual.

Since Jan. 2013, the club provided free vision, hearing and glaucoma screenings on nine occasions at health fairs in Beltsville, Seat Pleasant, Bethesda, Riverdale, College Park and Washington, D.C. The number of people screened at each function ranged from 10 to 135. The club was invited to participate in four of these health fairs by Maryland University School of Public Health, and in two additional cases were invited to perform screenings at local church functions. Screening were also offered at Beltsville Day and National Night Out, and the ninth outing was at the NBC4 Health & Fitness Expo in Washington, D.C.

In April, the club sponsored a walk for sight to benefit the Lions Low Vision Center at the Wilmer Eye Institute of the Johns Hopkins Medical Center in Baltimore and raised some $5,149 in donations. This was the second annual walk for sight in memory of Beltsville resident, the late Gene Hoffmaster, who keenly supported the Wilmer Eye Institute. Hoffmaster was a member of the Silver Spring Lions Club.

Quarterly blood drives were held at the Beltsville Community Center in Jan., April, July and Oct.

A total of 438 pairs of used eyeglasses were collected and provided to the Lions Community Outreach Foundation in Upper Marlboro for cleaning, prescription labeling and packaging for delivery to areas of the world where they are fitted to needy persons free of charge. Many people receive their first pair of glasses through this program.

Club members participated in the annual community yard sale at Behnke's Nursery on 27 July and a craft show at the nursery on 9 Nov. The club deeply appreciates the support of the Behnke Nurseries Company that began years ago when the late Albert Behnke was an Honorary Member.

Helpful Tips For Not Surrendering Senior Animals

Senior cats and senior dogs end up at shelters for many reasons. While some are just dumped, there are many senior pets that have lost their loving caregivers to death, a long-term care facility or financial difficulties. There are options besides open access shelters for senior pets.

Have a plan, most people have a contingency plan for their children and who gets what heirloom if something happens to them. However, they just assume that the family will care for their pet or pets. That assumption lands many pets in open access facilities. Talk to family members or friends in advance to find someone to take in your pet or will spearhead efforts to find your pet a new home. Make sure the information is conveyed in your will or trust. Offer temporary foster care.

Vansville's Winter Concert By Mr. Dorsey

The students at Vansville Elementary put on a grand show at their Winter Arts Showcase on December 11th. Guests filled the gym to capacity as performers displayed their talents.

Under Emily Busch, the Band and Strings played a mix of standards and holiday favorites;

4th and 5th Grade Choruses, under James Dorsey and Michael Wehinger respectively, sang about the joys of the season;

Mr. Dorsey's Dance Team premiered to a medley of songs.

The Vansville PTA also showed highlights of its Reflections Contest Entries in which students created original artwork based on the theme "Believe, Dream, and Inspire." Decorations were made by Tamara McRae's class, along with PTA member and parent Kamla Gupta-Smith.

The event was made possible by numerous staff and parent volunteers, a partnership with the Vansville Community Center, and the work of a dedicated building

The High Point Lady Eagles volleyball team

High Point High School News

The High Point administration and staff would like the community to be familiar with both High Point's Five Core Operating Beliefs and our Mission Statement. The High Point SPMT (School Planning and Management Team) approved High Point's Five Core Operating Beliefs, Mission Statement and Profile of Graduates. Both statements are on the High Point website http://www1.pgcps.org/highpoint and are listed below:

High Point's Five Core Operating Beliefs:

Children are our business, and they come first.

Parents are our partners.

Victory is in the classroom.

Continuous improvement in teaching, in leadership, and in accountability is the key to our success.

Every member of the community shares the responsibility for successful schools.

The High Point Mission Statement

The unique, diverse student body, staff, parents, and community of High Point High School are dedicated to upholding a climate of high expectations, along with a shared vision of academic excellence. Our ultimate goal is to assist young people in acquiring the habits, skills, and knowledge that will enable them to become informed, productive members of society.

PTSA News (Parent, Teacher and Student Association)

The PTSA hosted a building renovation meeting for the community on October 8th, 2013. The PTSA was pleased that over 100 concerned parents, students, and teachers came out for this important meeting.

The PTSA launched a website (www.highpointptsa.org), a Facebook page (www.facebook.com/HPHSPTA), and a Twitter account (@HighPointPTSA) to encourage and promote better communication within the community. The website and Facebook page are currently being translated into Spanish to accommodate our Spanish-speaking parents, community members and students.

The High Point Lady Eagles volleyball team enjoyed a very successful year, the first time the team has advanced to the Regional Championship since 2005, to win the State Regional title. The Lady Eagles were victorious at the sectional finals on November 6 and against the former county champions, Bowie, at the Regional Championship Game.

Saturday night the team received even more good news. The Lady Eagles won the Lesley A. Cooke Scholarship Award. This award is awarded to a team that displays the best overall sportsmanship while participating in the tournament. Judges observed each school's coaches, players, spectators, cheerleaders and pep bands and rated them from 1-10. High Point received the highest score.

The team was honored again in the Gazette on December 13. Keturah Gregory was selected for the 1st team, All-Gazette Honors and Grace Biney and Erica Kittleson made 2nd team. Sumentra Sinanan and Paulan Smith made honorable mention. In addition, High Point's coach Shirley Diggs was honored as Coach of the Year. Congratulations Lady Eagles! We look forward to your next successful season in 2014!

Congratulations goes to our honor roll students, who earned a GPA of 3.0, participated in the "All Star Dance" at High Point High School on Saturday, November 23rd. Hard-working ninth grade students were rewarded with a luncheon on November 25th from 1:30 to 1 p.m. in the Library Media Center. Congratulations to our students on their academic success and keep up the hard work.

Calverton Winter Music Program

By Becky Cavallo

On Dec. 17, the Calverton music department presented its Winter Concert. The show was held twice in the morning, once for the upper grade students and then again for the primary students. In the evening, the students returned to perform for parents and other family members and neighbors.

At 8:00 a.m., the stage was filled with three rows of eager, young musicians. The Beginner Band, conducted by instrumental music teacher, Ms. Sabatino. The Beginner Band played three musical numbers, the classic "Hot Cross Buns", "Au Claire de la Lune", and "Jingle Bells", the last of which was a favorite with the audience

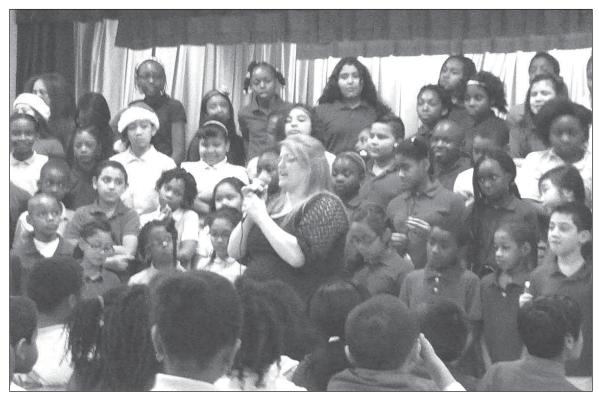

The Advanced Band, which was smaller but equally enthusiastic, performed next. On their first number, "Polly Wolly Doodle", they showed their capability of playing both loudly and softly. The second song was the "Imperial March", also known as Darth Vader's Theme Song. That was a hit, but still paled next to the ever popular "Frosty the Snowman" (Walter Rollins).

Beginning Orchestra was also teeming with budding musicians playing the violin, viola or cello. Their first number was "Barcorolle" (Jacques Offenbach), a number inspired by the Venetian gondoliers' singing. This was followed by "Boil them Cabbage Down" and "Scotland's Burning' which was performed together first and then as a round.

Advanced orchestra performed "Chester" (William Billings) as their first number, one of the first songs composed in this country. "Ground Round" (Joanne Erwin) was played as a round. Their last number was the Christmas classic, "God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen".

The choral portion of the program was a festive celebration of the season, directed by the chorus and general music teachers, Mrs. Arbach and Mrs. Pirnia. The first number was "Winter Fantasy" (Jill Gallina), a partner song, which means the chorus sang both parts all the way through together, and the two parts were sung simultaneously. The Jewish tune, "Shalom Chaverim, often sung at Hanukkah, was next. This beautiful piece was accompanied by hand chimes. The third number performed by the chorus was "Ujima" (Stan Spottswood), a Kwanzaa song about one of the principles of the holiday. The soloist was Leslie Bonilla, and Aden Richardson, Makaela Washington, and Kyle Dixon rapped. The words were inspiring, "Oh, let us work together, oh, let us help each other." Through the Eyes of a Child" (Teresa Jennings) featured soloist Anani Cabrera and reminded the audience that one should try to see the wonders of Christmas with a childlike faith. The grand finale was "Feliz Navidad" (José Feliciano). The audience sang along and some lucky members of the audience got to play the shakers.

to operate your generator. Perform a dry run to make sure you're familiar with its operation. Run the machine occasionally to keep the engine lubricated.

- Keep a flashlight handy to find your way to your generator. Store it conveniently, covered, to keep it free of dirt and debris.
- Proper generator maintenance includes several steps. For every eight hours of operation, check the oil. Change the air cleaner every 25 hours and the oil every 50 hours. Replace the spark plug every 100 hours.

More portable generator safety tips can be found at www. BriggsAndStratton.com. This winter, be prepared. Be sure you have a working portable generator, and the know-how to run it properly.

Baker Bill STUFF 'N THINGS

Wow a new year, I'll need to get used to it. I hope everyone had a nice holiday with no tears. I have received a few emails lately. One of them said I didn't know what I was talking about on the road side signs. The answer is go to Google and search road side signs. Read the law. I do research too. I also got a couple of emails on the fruit cake. I am not a computer genius but I am not a slouch either. But up to just a while ago I had to learn how to attach something from another file other than documents. So now if you ask for a recipe I do not need to copy it from notes but know how to attach a document, there is less chance of mistakes. Thank for your patience with me.

This is for all the people who have taken my class. I said I didn't like always using butter in all recipes. But that has changed. Butter has no trans-fat. Margarine tends to have trans-fat. I like butter as well as any one. I've purchased butter from area supermarkets, but I have found that Rite Aid in the Chestnut Shopping Center (Where Raulin's Bakery is) sells the one I prefer.

I need to write and edit this blog a month in advance. My dead line for January is the 12th of December. With this said, I am writing this on the 11 of November, Veterans Day. On this day I remember a blizzard about 1989 or 1990 do you remember? Today I went to lunch at Applebee's in Laurel. What a surprise, I was told a week ago that they were having a special menu for veterans, so Well enough about me. Here's a recipe for a great cold weather day get the kids in involved.

Old Fashioned Gingerbread

In a med size bowl place 3/4 cup sugar, add 1 & 3/4 cup flour, 1 full tablespoon shortening or butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 tablespoon ginger.

In a cup measure put 3/4 cup hot water, add 4 tablespoons molasses, stir in the dry stuff and mix till smooth. Preset the oven to 390 degrees and bake approx. 40 minutes lightly touch top there should be no wet spots, don't stick your finger in it wet or not. By the way Ginger will go weak. So if you had had it years, buy some new ginger.

ache and protect your files automatically. A secure and affordable service, such as Carbonite for example, will continually create copies of all your files and store them in the cloud. Once the files are backed up, you can remotely access them from nearly any Internet-connected device - which can help keep you connected in an emergency or when you're traveling. Make sure data protection is a key component of your end-ofyear planning — it will help set up your business for success in the new year. More information about small business backup can be found at www.Carbonite.com.

■ Mitigate your current tax burden: Understand your tax deductions and book all deductions before the end of the year. Implement new tax strategies to mitigate your 2014 tax burden. Remember, all business models are different. Consider consulting an expert tax analyst to find out what's best for your business.

■ Be social: Explore new avenues for advertising. Social media provides an easy and inexpensive platform for gauging your customer's desires, branding and getting the word out about your product or service.

There's no time like the new year to reassess what's working for your company and what isn't. Take the opportunity to set your company up for a successful 2014.
